

Special Section: Symposium on the ‘Taxation and Financial Markets’, EFA, August 2002

The August 2002 meeting of the European Finance Association, included a symposium on the ‘Taxation and Financial Markets’. The call for symposium papers called for papers on taxation and valuation, taxation and asset allocation, taxation and pension saving, international tax arbitrage, tax arbitrage with derivatives.

The result was a successful symposium with a total of fourteen papers selected through the now usual blind-refereeing process by two program committee members. This volume publishes three papers that were accepted to the European Finance Review after a careful reviewing and revision process.

The Review is indebted to the Professors Bjarne Astrup Jensen and Kristian Rydqvist, who coordinated the symposium and helped guide the final papers to publication.
