

A LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR OF THE IAFE

Dear Subscribers,

This summer the IAFE saw the release of its new book "How I Became A Quant: Insights from 25 of Wall Street's Elite," based on the popular IAFE series of panels that are hosted in various cities throughout the year. Edited by IAFE Chairman Richard Lindsey and IAFE Education Committee co-chair Barry Schachter, the book is a compilation of 25 autobiographical stories of how of some of today's top quants developed their careers. Copies of the book are available for sale in many retail book stores and also at the IAFE website. All royalties go to the Fischer Black Memorial Foundation, IAFE's educational arm.

FINANCIAL MATHEMATICS CAREER FAIR

On October 26th, the IAFE will co-host the Seventh Annual Financial Mathematics Career Fair in New York City. This event brings over 300 candidates studying for their Masters in Financial Engineering for a one-day event to meet with recruiters. If your institution is interested in participating in this years fair, please contact the IAFE. More information on the fair can be found at www.finmathjobfair.org

IAFE WEBSITE NOW FEATURES STREAMING VIDEO

All IAFE Members now have access to additional content on the IAFE Website. Included in this members-only section are videos of select IAFE Events, including our very popular: Algorithmic Trading—How Do We Really Know It Works and our career focused panel: How I Became A Quant. Throughout 2007 we will be recording and posting many of our events for those who are not able to attend in person. Our new site also features message boards for committee discussions and post event discussion. All of this is available at www.iafe.org under the "Members Area" tab.

To join, simply complete the membership application at the back of the journal or use our online form at www.iafe.org.

Best regards,

David Jaffe
Director, IAFE
